Workshop on Theatre Arts - “When Jove nods to Jove - Theatre Experience”

REPORT

On 14.09.2022, the department hosted a Workshop titled ‘When Jove Nods to Jove - Theatre Experience’. The resource person of the day was the eminent thespian, Prof. N. Elango, who currently heads the PG and Research Department of English at Mannar Thirumalai Naicker College. The speaker’s session was very lively and included hands-on training for the participants. By focusing on the subtleties of acting like body-language, voice-modulation, accentuation and delivery, Prof. Elango provided a wealth of knowledge. The students eagerly participated in the practical-theatre session and acted out a scene from Shakespeare’s A Midsummer Night’s Dream. Prof. Elango was also the resource person for the workshop conducted on 21.09.2022, titled “Acting is Believing”. He spoke on the intricacies of acting, posturing, the art of reading between the lines and using emotional cues to give convincing impressions. He encouraged the students to perform on the stage by grouping them and asking them to play out scenarios.
